Dressed Up & Connected: USIBC Virtual Lunch and Virtual Happy Hour

Encouraged Dress: Business Casual and Indian Traditional

Join us for a virtual lunch/happy hour as we socialize and connect over food, drinks, and conversation. We will have three rooms to join while you dine in the comfort of your home. For our members in Washington, DC we are partnering with IndAroma to have lunch delivered to you on July 21. For more information and to order, please visit: <https://usibcindaroma.square.site/>

Virtual Social Gathering One – Bringing India to the World Through Cuisine

Indian-ish author Priya Krishna joins Taj Hotels and IndAroma Executive Chefs to discuss the history of Indian regional cuisine and where Indian cooking is headed next. Watch as the chefs prepare a classic biryani dish in a session that is sure to delight your virtual senses and introduce new culinary ideas.

Virtual Social Gathering Two – Sitar with Rishab Rikhi Ram: West Meets East

Join us for a performance by Sitarist Rishab Rikhi Ram, the youngest disciple of Bharat Ratna and world-renowned maestro Pt. Ravi Shankar, who took the world on a whirlwind fusion tour connecting Western music with that of the traditional Indian classical. Shankar is well known for his West-Meets-East collaboration with American Violinist Yehudi Menuhin and singer/songwriter George Harrison. Rishab Rikhi Ram carries on the legacy and magic of Pt. Ravi Shankar's music with a performance that will showcase both traditional sitar pieces and interpretations of modern classics.

Virtual Social Gathering Three – The Intersection of Business & Mindfulness

Join Brahma Kumari Sister Shivani and Rajan Navani, JetSynthesys Vice Chairman, MD & CEO, for an interactive session on how business leaders are embracing mindfulness, empowering their teams' wellness journeys, and skills we can all develop to better ourselves mentally and physically during tough times.
